Good design

Good design comes with understanding the principles – balance, proximity, alignment, repetition, contrast, space – and elements of visual design and how they all work together. Practice how to apply these principles and elements – and how to contravene them. Learn about the history of design, lighting, interior finishes and home furnishings. Develop your design sense and move from concept to creation.

Colourful career

Explore colour – the most influential element of design – and its application. Discover how the principles of colour, in relation to psychology and design communications, relate to physical space and the world around them. Explore the history of colour trends, study colour from a practical world perspective, and learn about its cultural and political influences.

Decorating business

Develop a broad range of practical skills to launch a successful interior decorating business. Discover the work that's in high demand and learn to create an impressive portfolio that attracts clients and builds your business. Learn how to leverage technology to communicate your design concepts, develop a business plan, and manage clients, suppliers and contractors.

Career Opportunities

Sheridan's Visual Design Interior Decorating program will suit your passion for design and help you venture into an interior decorating business or a new career.
